Whittier vs. State

A Football Hunting We Will Go For a Whittier Poet Schmoe

Kickoff Tomorrow Night At Cox Stadium, 8 o'clock

The piece de resistance of the Cox Stadium football season will be served tomorrow night at 8, when State puts its unbeaten record in jeopardy against the defending Southern California Conference champion Whittier Poets. Looked upon by many as the tallest hurdle for Joe Verducci in his first year as head coach at Buchanan Heights, the Quaker team looked anything but pacifists last year in clobbering the Gators, 60-0. With 19 lettermen returning from that team, the Poets must be rated favorites tomorrow night.

However, the heavily improved Gators don't figure to stand for another humiliation such as that one. With a wealth of versatile backfield material working behind a green but rugged forward wall, State cannot be counted entirely out of the running.

Veteran Coach Wallace "Chief" Newman of Whittier will throw a single wing tandem against the Verducci "T", which should make for an interesting style comparison.

The Poets' chief stock in trade is their bruising line play, featuring 12 returning lettermen, led by End Ken Chandler and Center Don Axelson.

Herman Reed, a jarring, 200 lb. fullback, and triple threat Tailback Tony Siciliano lead a collectively light but speedy backfield array.

State's hopes for an upset depend largely on the ability of its inexperienced line to frustrate the Whittier power enough to give Quarterbacks Sam DeVito and Tom Ripa a chance to run the wide open Verducci attack effectively.

The Gator quarterbacks have some good hard running backs to call on in such men as Rudy Smith, Walt Jourdan, Jack Caruso, Bob Keropian, et al.

The big question from the Purple and Gold standpoint is whether or not that green forward wall can come of age tomorrow night. At any rate, the game should be fraught with action.

Post-Season Bowl Game For FWC

Cox, head of the physical education department, announced this week that a contract has been signed between the member schools of the Far Western Conference and the Northwestern Intercollegiate Conference to meet annually in a post season football game at the Pear Bowl in Medford, Oregon.

Installment Card Deadline Set For October 15

All Two Payment Plan Cards to Be Canceled

As October 15 deadline draws near, the goal of 3000 student body card sales will apparently remain unrealized. To date approximately 2306 cards have been sold; this total includes 2117 sales among students and 189 among faculty members. The number of student sales may decrease sharply if final installments aren't paid on the 360 cards which were purchased on the two payment plan. With only two days remaining during which students may pay off the balance on their cards, over 80 per cent of the transactions remain incomplete. These card sales became invalid, and the cards will be recalled by the associated students if they remain unpaid for after October 15.

In accordance with the unfilled goal, all campus organizations which receive financial support from the associated students will face a cut in their budgets. Ralph Lewis, administrator of student affairs, states, "At this time we can't hope to realize our aim of 3000 card sales. The decision has been delayed as long as possible, but it's evident now that substantial cuts in the budget will have to be made."

More Freddy Martin Tryouts Scheduled

New TV Show Offers Chance For Musicians

Auditions which were held on campus Monday and Tuesday for the Freddy Martin-Admiral television show brought out a representative number of musical students from the college.

"The boys and girls who played and sang for me," said Martin's talent scout, Leon d'Usseau, "were for the most part, very good, but from what I have been told there are still a considerable number of very fine instrumentalists and vocalists attending State College who did not audition. I'd like very much to hear these boys and girls, for I want to be sure that our telecasts present only the very best State has to offer. There is no reason why State shouldn't make as good a showing on the t.v. show as any other school."

"I hold auditions every Saturday from 1:30 to 5 and from 7:30 to 1 in Room 602, 15 California street. An accompanist is on hand, though a candidate may bring his or her own pianist if desired."

The show is telecast every Friday night from 8:30 to 9 over KGO-TV.

"For the ambitious student hoping to capitalize on his or her musical education," d'Usseau went on to say, "this is a splendid opportunity. First, it affords a rare chance for a musician to appear with a first class orchestra on a Class A television program; furthermore, the guest is paid for his participation. Then, if one's performance is judged as the best on a given program the winner has the privilege of accepting a "seat" on "The Admiral Band of Tomorrow," a band which Martin is forming by combining all the winners. This band, as soon as it is assembled, is contracted for a two weeks engagement in the Mural Room at the St. Francis hotel. Other play dates in the Bay area are being arranged."

Mr. d'Usseau went on to say that either union or non-union musicians are eligible, and that he will use a duo, trio or quartette as well as solo offerings.

"Appearing on such a program is an illuminating experience," Mr. d'Usseau said in parting, "and I urge every boy and girl to try it."

Discount Plan Needs Help

Orv Wycoff, coordinator of the college discount plan, issued a call for volunteers to aid in the expansion of the project. The plan calls for merchants to give discounts to student body card holders.

New Dance Plan Approved By CAA

70-30 Profit Split Recommended to Board

Associated students' treasurer, Jack Healy's compromise proposal for the distribution of dance profits was approved this week by the Club Advisory Association.

Under the new plan, organizations which conduct dances during the year will be protected by the associated students for financial loss. In return 30 per cent of the dance profits will go into a dance loss fund. At the end of the year any monies left in the dance loss fund will be proportionately distributed among the organizations who contributed.

Purpose of the plan will be to protect organizations which have less advantageous dates on the college social calendar from going into debt.

Under the old plan approved by the board of directors last semester, all organizations had to split on a 50-50 basis with the associated students.

Opera Tickets On Sale in H-4A

Opera tickets, unavailable to the general public, may be purchased by student body card holders in Hut 4A today.

The tickets sell for $2.40 and are good for balcony seats. Performances include Sunday matinees of Andrea Chenier (October 15), Barber of Seville (October 22).

Tickets are also available for Tristan and Isolde (October 12) and Othello (October 19).

Flexibility Is Keynote of Design

Library to Be Completed in Two Years

"Function" and "accessibility" are the keynotes of the plans for State college's new library which, according to Dr. Kenneth Brough, librarian, should be completed within the next two years.

With the exception of the core of the building, made up of the lobby and a few rooms which must be fixed with fire walls for protection, 99 per cent of the entire interior will be built of flexible equipment so it can be easily rearranged. For example, the office staff's work rooms of prefabricated steel panels can be easily moved if necessary. Even the doors can be changed. Shelving is all free structure.

Students using the library will not be denied access to the stacks. Reading rooms, reference rooms, reserve rooms will be arranged against the outside walls of the structure so that they form a pattern similar to the frame of a picture, and the student will have access to all of these. Books themselves will be grouped according to related subjects. For example, the second floor will house those books concerning education and related sciences; the third floor, creative arts and humanities. There will be no sharp dividing line between subjects. Related books will be placed together in a central core.

Lining the outside wall of the new 114 feet by 225 feet portico structure will be a continuous strip of windows, some stationary, some movable for ventilation purposes.

The building planned is a modular structure similar to the new library recently completed at the University of San Francisco. The term "modular" means a building so constructed that each floor consists of a number of equally sized modules or bays, and that in each

Student Files Complaint Against Gater Editor

Charges Bob Donovan With Abuse of Position

James Hatchett, health council representative for the International Relations Club and former member of the board of directors, petitioned the board Tuesday with a series of charges against Golden Gater editor Bob Donovan.

Expressing the view that the news story on the IRC suspension was presented in a damaging fashion to the interests of the IRC executive committee, Mr. Hatchett charged Mr. Donovan with "incompetence or gross maliciousness."

The information that the "Student Rally for Academic Freedom" had been reported in the Daily People's World was, he felt, "inclusion of unrelated but damaging material in a report on our club rule violations."

Listing four charges, three against Mr. Donovan and one against the board itself, Mr. Hatchett stated, "In my opinion, the board of directors has the responsibility of promoting unity rather than disunity between students of different organizations."

His charges were:

1. Incompetence or gross maliciousness upon the part of the editor.

2. Abuse of the editorial position and the misuse of the official organ of the associated students to impute associations of a definitely harmful nature to the executive committee of the IRC.

3. The automatic disqualifying of Mr. Donovan from a seat on the Club Advisory Association, which is investigating the charges made by the board leading to the IRC suspension.

4. Negligence of duty on the part of the board for allowing the official voice of the associated students to be used in a manner which by implication smears officers of an organization which is under investigation.

The board ruled that the charges be referred to the editorial board with the stipulation that editor Donovan would not be present when the charges were reviewed.

Loyalty Oath Talk Tuesday

"Let's Look at the Facts: A Roundtable Discussion on the State Loyalty Oath," will be held next Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the Baptist Church.

Sponsored by the associated students, the roundtable will consist of eight speakers plus a moderator. There will be four faculty and four student speakers.

Aimed at bringing about a more rational discussion of the State loyalty oath and its specific provisions, the roundtable will last for one hour.

The tentative list of speakers is: George D. Outland, moderator, Alfred G. Fisk, Herbert Bisno, John B. Schneider and J. Fenton McKenna.

The student speakers are: Bill Price, Courtney Pontious, Guy Morgan and Orv Wycoff.

KT-KO Rally on Tap Today at 1

A slam-bang rally is on tap this afternoon with Kappa Theta and Kappa Omega providing the talent. The affair gets under way at 1 p.m. in the women's gym.

Highlighting the proceedings will be several popular renditions by the Vernon Alley Quartet. Slated to bring down the house is a skit directed by Mary Ellen Berry.

Dance Interviews

All groups who are planning to sponsor dances this semester should arrange for an interview with Dean Ward not later than November 1.

Investigation Committee Orders Constitution Revision, Elections

The preliminary steps were taken this week for the full reinstatement to campus status of the International Relations Club when the Club Advisory Association passed the recommendations of its investigating committee.

Rewriting of their constitution and an election of officers were the only conditions made binding upon the IRC. A third recommendation requested that rules and regulations governing campus organizations be distributed.

The CAA investigating committee ruled that only two of the original four charges delivered by the board were valid. It was felt that the IRC executive committee had planned, organized and had intended to conduct the off-campus meeting. Also, by their own admission, they had released unauthorized information to the press.

Investigating committee chairman, Phil Ryan stated, "The committee recognizes the truth of the IRC's point that they did not sponsor the meeting because they had been prevented from doing so by the action of the board in suspending them from the campus, but the committee feels that the intent of the board's charge was fulfilled."

The two charges thrown out by the committee were whether the IRC was acting beyond its sphere and whether the executive committee exceeded their authority and trust in holding an off-campus meeting.

On whether they had exceeded their authority and trust, Mr. Ryan said, "The committee feels unable to judge this point, but if they were, in light of the executive committee to fix policy, they would find the organization not guilty."

Turning to the charge that the IRC executive committee had exceeded its authority, Mr. Ryan pointed out, "On the basis of the constitution currently in use by the IRC and accepted by the committee so as to have a basis of discussion, the committee finds the IRC not guilty."

"This acceptance of the constitution was for a basis of discussion only. The committee feels that it is invalid and must be rewritten so as to agree with all regulations in regard to campus clubs."

It was explained to the CAA that several constitutions for the IRC were on file, but the current copy under which the organization had actually operated was not.

The text of the CAA investigating committee recommendations are as follows:

1. That a current constitution of the IRC be immediately rewritten.

2. That the board of directors appoint one of its members to conduct an election of officers at the earliest possible date. The present officers automatically being nominated for the offices they currently hold. It is a condition, understood by this committee, that all officers must be contested by at least two people for this election to be valid.

3. That the associated students and the administration of the college immediately distribute to all campus groups all of the conditions, rules and regulations, binding on, and conditional for on-campus status.

A constitution clearance committee was appointed by CAA president Phil Ryan to check all campus organization constitutions to see that they conform with the established rules and are up to date.

Speakers Call For New Members

The State Speakers' Bureau is embarking upon an intensive membership drive this semester, according to Bureau prexy Bill Price.

A comprehensive program of intercollegiate debate and speaking is being organized as well as a student town meeting twice a month on current issues.

"We are trying to develop a panel of 'minute' speakers who will be able to speak on very short notice," said Mr. Price. He further stressed that the Bureau is open to all college students and that the dues are only 50 cents a semester.

Delta Gamma Tau Hop Friday Night

The correct attire for next Friday's Delta Gamma Tau dance is a pajama top! That's what Phil Ryan, president of the service-social organization, said. Pajama tops!

Officially called the Pajama Top Hop, it is scheduled to follow the Humboldt State game, and it will continue until 1:00. If no PJ tops are available, sports clothes will do.

During the course of the evening the election results and the list of pledges for all on-campus fraternities will be announced.

Paul Law's rhythm-aire will supply the necessary music. Prices are set at 75 cents with a student card, and $1.25 without.

Smoke That Fag ... Outside!

"Fire regulations must be enforced," stated Runar Stone. Smoking is allowed: in the co-op; College hall basement; in the faculty offices; and throughout Anderson hall. Smoking is not permitted above the basement of College hall, or in any class room on campus.

At last State will have a library that is conducive to study... and no longer will an education major find it necessary to run from building to building to find material. Students at the new library will, in the words of Dr. Brough, have "books all around them."

Four Poly Grid Aces Join Lil' Joe

Quartet of Parrot Title Fame On Gator Varsity

This season the Gators find themselves with a coach and four griders that have attained high acclaim at Polytechnic High School of San Francisco. Coach Joe Verducci needs little introduction since he shifted his energetic frame to State. Many noteworthy records were set by Joe Verducci at Poly.

The four varsity players from the Frederick Street school are Marvin Crews, Harold Goldstein, John Wolterbeck and Harlan Miller.

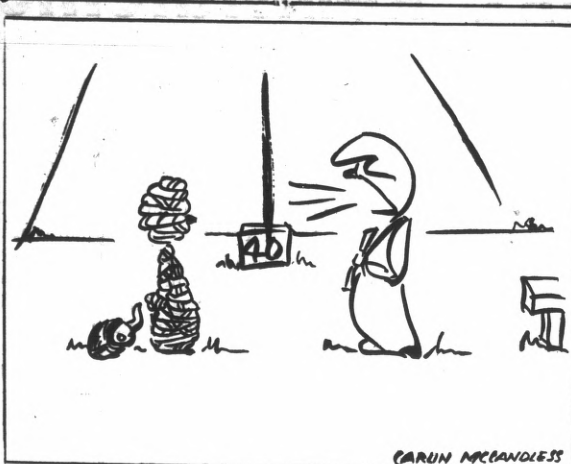

The speedy halfback of the quartet is Marvin Crews. This 155 pound frosh triumphed with Poly's '48 championship club. His driving legs and football-wise body led him to all-city fame. This 19-year-old athlete will be among State's fast set of halfbacks.

Hal Goldstein, a team-mate of Crews, gained all-city honors as fullback on the '48 eleven. This year at State, "Goldie" has been shifted to guard by Coach Verducci. Hal is a 197-pound freshman.

The 1949 championship team of Polytechnic found John Wolterbeck and Harlan Miller mainstays in her line. John is a 185 pound frosh that has combined efforts at guard and center positions. Harlan Miller was a determined flanker and end who gained all-city mention while at Poly. He is now holding down a tackle position with the Gators. His 190 pound form seems to be needed this season.

CAA Attendance Made Compulsory

The Club Advisory Association approved the recommendation of CAA proxy Phil Ryan to make attendance at CAA meetings compulsory for all organizations wishing to maintain their campus status.

Minor Not Needed For Lib. Arts A.B.

Students who are in the Liberal Arts curriculum for an AB degree will not be required to have a minor. This does not apply to those students seeking both a credential and the AB degree concurrently.

One minor is required of students working for the Kindergarten Primary, General Elementary and Junior High credentials.

A minor is also required for the Secondary Credential. It is wise therefore, to plan to complete all courses in the undergraduate program since the number of courses necessary in the graduate program for the credential will be increased. However, candidates for the Secondary Credential may receive the AB degree by fulfilling the requirements of a Liberal Arts major without a minor.

For provisions relating to Special Secondary credentials, the student should see advisers in the Division concerned.

Cal Math Teacher Named to Faculty

Recently Dr. Stanley Morse, chairman, Division of Natural Science, announced the appointment of Mr. David W. Blakeslee as a part time instructor on the division's mathematics staff.

Mr. Blakeslee is a graduate of the University of California and is currently completing work for his Ph.D. His teaching experience includes physics, tactics, navigation at the United States Naval Reserve; mathematics at Cal. In addition to this he was a curriculum writer for the Naval Reserve Program.

Homecoming Queen Contest Nears

Language Arts Offers New Majors In Writing and Journalism

For the student interested in writing, the newly created writing major offers an extensive workshop to develop these interests.

At the "little Asilomar conference" held on campus this spring, the Language Arts department recommended the creation of a writing major with two points emphasized: creative writing and journalism.

Previous to this term, ambitious journalists and feature writers have had to concentrate their talents in the English department. The new major, still not applicable to the General Secondary credential, will provide the student with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Thirty people have already enrolled as journalism majors. The journalism courses, open to all students at State, attempt to tie in with the fields of creative arts and social science.

The journalism department's objectives are to give a good factual background in the field, to develop clear thinking, to give an overall liberal arts education, and to introduce students to all phases of publications work, whether this be in writing of news copy, business management, advertising or in related fields such as publicity, composing room technique and analysis, and constructive criticism. The courses are designed to give students actual experience in the fields of newspaper work. In applying for a job, the student will find that the editor is not interested in the students accumulated knowledge of proof-reading symbols, but whether or not the student has a good liberal arts background, has the ability to think, is capable of accepting responsibility and if he has a good general knowledge in fields related to journalism.

Fourteen individual journalism courses are offered. Those being taught this term include: Jour. 50, a course in news writing and the elements of reporting; Jour. 100A, the newspaper and society; Jour. 101, an introduction to copy desk and editorial techniques; Jour. 102, a course primarily for regular staff members of the Golden Gator; Jour. 103, a course for staff members of the Franciscan or Inklings; Jour. 190, journalistic problems.

THE THEATER

State Thespians Star in Summer Show

By Ruth Carley

The Woodminster Amphitheater, high in the Berkeley hills, was the scene of Shakespeare's "Henry IV" this past August. If you chanced to see this production, you would have found many of San Francisco State's actors trodding the boards, and some of the faculty of the music, speech and art departments doing the technical work.

Dr. J. Fenton McKenna, who has supervised these productions for the Oakland Park department for the past three summers, directed the play. Dr. McKenna has been at State for four years, during which time he has done such productions as "Little Foxes," "Room Service," "Julius Caesar," "Three Men on a Horse," "Twelfth Night."

For eleven years Dr. McKenna was on the summer staff at Northwestern University, running their experimental theater, teaching acting courses, and as guest director. He directed the San Juan Bautista Pageant several times and wrote and directed the St. Helena Pageant. Recently he has done "Glory in the Land," by Richard Ellers, for the Alameda County Centennial, and "The Shining Trail," by Garthwaite, for the Portola Pageant of the San Francisco Centennial. Just previous to coming here he was chairman of drama at Santa Clara University.

Aside from using professional actors from the Bay Area, Dr. McKenna drew heavily on State resources, both for acting and for technical help. Mr. Clarence Miller, instructor of drama, did the lights and Virginia Cox was assistant director.

The Art and Music departments contributed to "Henry IV" through the services of Mr. Waldemar Johansen and Mr. Wendell Otey. Mr. Johansen designed the sets and Mr. Otey composed and played the background music on the organ.

Others from State who participated were Mr. Richard Glyer, who played Hotspur, and Mr. Jules Irving, who played Prince Hal. Glyer quit school when he was a junior at college. His first job was as scene painter's assistant at the Cape Playhouse at Dennis, Mass. The second summer there he became a member of the company. He played in a Rachel Carothers play, "Talent," and went to Broadway with this one.

Some adversity followed, but as it turned out, he got a lot of valuable experience, and didn't quite starve.

"Sailor Beware" was a "turkey," according to the boys who were supposed to know. Mr. Glyer was in the cast and resigned in favor of another show. "Sailor Beware" played a year or better and the other show played two weeks.

Our hero wandered out to Hollywood, and while "resting" got his Bachelor of Arts degree at U.S.C. He then went to Stanford and there gained his Master's degree. Now he aspires to a Ph.D.

Jules Irving, who directed State's hit production, "The Hasty Heart," played the young prince Hal. Mr. Irving, a native New Yorker, at the age of 13 was the recipient of a drama scholarship. At 14 he played a leading role as Frederic March's son in "The American Way" on Broadway. During his college days at New York University, he continued on Broadway in the Ethel Merman hit, "Something for the Boys."

Serving as a Russian interpreter in the army, Mr. Irving continued in the service in a special company with Joshua Logan. In Paris he met his attractive wife, who toured with them as a civilian entertainer.

Receiving his master's degree at Stanford, Mr. Irving is presently working on his Ph.D. there. His career, both as an actor and director, has been a series of successes, with one rare exception in Europe. He fell in an orchestra pit.

The Henry IV cast at Westminster included State's Norm Bartold as Falstaff; Jud Holstein as the King; John Graham as Poins; Joe Sabalia as Pistol; Stanton Keeney as Bardolph. The play proved such a success that a Shakespearean Festival for next year is under consideration. Rave notices from the Oakland press and packed houses insure future success.

Foreign Students Urged To Contact Mr. Pierce

All foreign students who are enrolled at San Francisco State College for the first time this semester are requested to contact Mr. George Pierce in the Registrar's office.

New Humanities Course Features 'California Scene'

Taking advantage of the current interest in California history and culture brought about by the current Centennial celebrations, the Humanities Division introduced this fall a new class called "The California Scene," with a catalog label of Humanities 194.

This class is patterned after the very successful "American Scene" course initiated during the last fall semester. The format is somewhat different, due to the advantage gained by the proximity of the subject matter. Field trips can be utilized with comparative ease and these trips cannot help from being valuable, as San Francisco is more or less "Mr. California."

Nominal director of the class is Dr. Elias T. Arnesen, chairman of the Humanities Division, but co-helps and contributors of vital knowledge necessary to round out the overall scene of California are Dr. George Hinkle, Dr. Roy E. Freeburg and Mr. Hugh C. Baker. Daily sessions utilize camera projections, moving pictures and even visiting dance artists.

A trip through the Mother Lode and other semi-local historical spots is planned for October 15. This trip will be under the direction of Mr. Hugh Baker, who is a recognized California historian. Yesterday, the class went out to the California Palace of the Legion of Honor to view a showing of historical California art.

Dr. Arnesen stated "The student response to this class was very gratifying," and added that Humanities 194 would also be offered during subsequent semesters.

Freedom Crusade Sign-up Starts On Campus Today

The "Crusade for Freedom" will enlist the help of State students today and tomorrow, in "Making Freedom Ring" everywhere.

A booth has been set up in the basement of College hall, where students are urged to sign the "Declaration of Freedom." People signing the scroll will be given a pin showing their support of the drive.

There will be a receptacle for contributions. The money will be used to build up radio free Europe. The purpose of the station is to give information of the free world to the countries of Europe.

Approval for this drive was first obtained from the faculty, and the plan was then presented to the board of directors. They voted unanimously to support the drive, and appointed Court Pontious as chairman.

The scrolls will be sent over to Germany and on October 24 the Freedom Bell will be unveiled along with all of the scrolls on October 24, United Nations Day.

Here is the text of the Freedom Scroll, which students can sign today and tomorrow on campus:

DECLARATION OF FREEDOM

I believe in the sacredness and dignity of the individual. I believe that all men derive the right to freedom equally from God.

I pledge to resist aggression and tyranny wherever they appear on earth.

I am proud to enlist in the Crusade for Freedom.

I am proud to make the Freedom Bell possible, to be a signer of this Declaration of Freedom, to have my name included as a permanent part of the Freedom Shrine in Berlin, and to join with the millions of men and women throughout the world who hold the cause of freedom sacred.

Hillel Open House Tues.

The Hillel foundation will hold an open house reception next Tuesday at 1 p.m. in AA7. An invitation is extended to all students interested in Hillel activities.

LETTERS-TO-THE-EDITOR

The State Loyalty Oath

Editor:

It is my opinion that the new loyalty oath law demands student action. Let me clarify the words "student action."

This loyalty law is of vital interest to all students at San Francisco State college. Because the law is a controversial issue, and because on strong point of democracy is discussing controversial issues with all sides (notice I did not say both sides), the student body of State college should demand a rally or an assembly. This assembly should be organized not by several groups, but by our legal body—our associated students of San Francisco State college. This assembly should serve many objectives:

1. Define the loyalty oath to the students.
2. State the objectives or reasons for this law.
 - a. implications of the law should be discussed later.
3. Have a discussion of the law,
 - a. implications of the law.
 - b. right to question the law.
 - c. any other questions.
 - d. discussion by faculty and/or students or outside sources.

My reason for being so concerned about this situation is the apparent lack on the part of our students of adequate and non-emotional information. My reason for concern is the nonchalant attitude of too many students. To me this is not a question of just a loyalty oath—but a severe test of individual interest in democratic procedure. It is our duty as individuals of a democracy to question all doings of the State; it is our duty as individuals to question the State by intelligent analysis.

An election should be held after the facts and various opinions have been given. The election should be sponsored by the associated students, financed by student body card funds; but open to all college registrants—the issue is too pertinent to be limited. The associated students should take the initiative to insure to each student a chance, by electoral means, to voice an opinion. Put to a vote, the question would read:

1. I advocate united associated student action in favor of the loyalty oath.
2. I advocate united associated student action to fight against the loyalty oath.
3. I advocate no action be taken by the associated students on the loyalty oath law.

Some such plan as outlined above must be carried out immediately—we have so much at stake!—Evelyn A. Barber.

Campus Ramblings

By Bonnie Rolph

The rigor of school life has already begun to set in as books and studies become routine. But aside from the "old grind," an important part of State revolves around the social organizations and the people who make them up. This column will attempt to devote itself to the unofficial business of campus life—the things that make State tick.

"Building and construction are well under way on the new campus and will probably be completed before you graduate." For those persons unable to attend the welcome assembly at the Baptist Church because of the sunny weather, these were the famous last words uttered by one who should know.

Everybody's doing it! Believe it or not, Ripley, seemed an appropriate beginning phrase for Lois (Butcher) Watson and Johnnie Watson's wedding announcement. Other congratulations go to "Rog" Cinnamon and his wife, Carol, who have been married since the beginning of school. The newest newlyweds, though, are Norman Mendoza and "Ginny" Petersen, who eloped less than two weeks ago. Good luck, all!

Kappa Theta and Kappa Omega are combining efforts in their presentation of the "Lucky Shuffle" dance, and it has all the makings of a unique dance, even to the choice of the evening—Friday the thirteenth.

Buy a pom pom and cheer State on to football victory. Any Bib 'n' Tucker will sell you one at the game.

Delta Gamma Tau has been whispering about something different in the way of their dance on October 20. Something about a pajama party?

Did you know that the associated student body secretary is taking the sub-collegiate penmanship class?

There are now seven fraternities on campus with the arrival of Beta Chi Delta, with John Pifer as president.

Discovered yesterday on campus was a student who still thought an oath was a swear word.

State Soccer Team Points For Cal Bears Saturday; Eye St. Louis Trip

State Booters Bow to Alumni All-Stars, 5-2;
Walt Pudlowski Stars in Defeat For Gators

By Frank Gato

Considering last night's tussle with the University of San Francisco a thing of the past, the Gator soccer team starts prepping for its encounter with the University of California Saturday morning.

In order to remain in the conference race, Coach Jerry Kenney's aggregation will have to topple highly-touted California. Julius Schroeder's Bears always manage to field a rough and tough ball club. The game is scheduled for Berkeley with the kicking, blocking and swearing commencing at the early hour of 10 a.m.

The Gator's top offensive weapon against the Bears will be huge Walt Pudlowski. Pudlowski put on a one-man kicking exhibition last Saturday in the State-Alumni contest. He stole some of the luster off All-American Homo Zylker, who paced the 5-2 Alumni win.

Victory or defeat will rest on the shoulders of such Gator standouts as Pudlowski, Chuck Boise, Hank Larmuseau, Frank Storti, John Harlan, Pete Holmes, Ernie Huber, Al Hilbert, Don and Earl Lowart and Neil Decker.

There is no doubt that the Gators want to win the conference, especially with the prospects of a trip back to St. Louis for the national championship. Decker, City College of San Francisco transfer and potential All-Conference man, expressed the team's sentiments when he said, "We have a lot of spirit and fight and may go all the way to St. Louis."

The only trouble is that several other teams have the idea that they want to go to St. Louis also. USF and California are very insistent about this matter. The Dons went back there last year to tie for the national crown. This time they want to be champs all by their lonesome. As for Cal, this may be its year.

However, State intends on spoiling the dreams of both these schools. Saturday's result may well tell the tale.

After Saturday, the Gators resume their kicking ways next Wednesday when they host the Stanford Indians under the arcs at Cox Stadium.

Wrestlers Start Workouts Monday

All men interested in collegiate wrestling please sign up in the men's training quarters or see coach Joe Verducci, Joe Kimura, Russ Meserole or Otto Graft. No previous wrestling experience is required.

Wrestling practice will start Monday, October 16. Practice will be from 4-6 p.m., Monday through Friday and at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Kimura will coach the 2 o'clock practice and Graft and Meserole will coach the 4 o'clock practice.

All practices will be held in the men's training quarters until further notice.

After Five Years: Gators Dump So. Oregon In Far Western Conference Triumph, 39-21

By Toni Robinson

For the first time in Far Western Conference history Southern Oregon College's Red Raiders bowed to San Francisco State in Ashland last Saturday night. A partisan Ashland crowd watched the Gator squad stave off the Red Raiders first quarter drive and go on to win, 39-21.

The first quarter was a hectic one for the Staters as the Oregonians repeatedly sprang loose their speedy backfield men for long running gains. Not until late in the quarter did the Gators solve the Raider "split T" offensive and take the initiative.

Two minutes before the quarter ended a forty-five yard punt by Glen Waaland gave the Raiders the ball deep in their own territory, where the State defense tightened, causing a fumble which was picked up by State's Bob Mustert.

Rudy Smith ran around left end from the 5 to the 30 yard line as the quarter ended. This was the first play of a sustained drive in which Walt Jourdan, Smith and Bob Keropian carried the ball up the field on running plays. The drive was culminated by Keropian taking the ball over from the 2 yard line.

Warren Allbee's kick was nullified by a Gator holding penalty and Sam DeVito unsuccessfully attempted to pass for the extra point.

State took over on downs after the defensive squad had held the Raiders out of scoring territory. Again the backfield took turns carrying the ball down the field for a six pointer, which Rudy Smith carried over from the five.

Just prior to the touchdown, Jourdan carried the ball from the Southern Oregon 45 to the 15. On the next play, which took the ball to the one yard line, State was penalized 15 yards for holding. Jourdan carried the ball to the four and a first down and goal to go. Then Smith scored.

Allbee's kick was good and the Gators led 13-0.

Allbee's kick-off to the 10 yard line was run back by halfback Bob Maurer, who was stopped almost immediately by John Wolterbeck.

The linebacking of Hal Goldstein, freshman guard, stood out as State's excellent defensive team held the Oregonians for no gain and forced a punt.

For the third time Jourdan, Keropian and Smith, with Sam DeVito as quarter, started the Gators on a touchdown drive. Smith ran from the Gators 41 to the Southern Oregon 45. DeVito then shot a pass to Keropian on the 20. End Dick Payne gathered in another of DeVito's passes at the 15 and sidestepped tacklers to the two, where DeVito called a quarterback sneak which scored for the Gators. Allbee added a point with two and a half minutes to go in the half.

A Raider fumble of the run back of Allbee's kickoff was recovered by Wolterbeck, but the half ended before the Staters could start another drive.

Four minutes after the start of the half the Raiders suddenly regained their first quarter stature and rolled from their own 30 to the State one yard line.

The State defensive unit stopped four successive attempts to go over from the one and State took over on downs.

Quarterback Tom Ripa took the ball himself and called plays for fullback John O'Shea that took the Gators out of danger and when the Raiders again got the ball they lost possession by fumbling on the State 25 yard line.

The most spectacular play of the evening came when DeVito threw a short pass to Keropian on the State 35. A well timed lateral by Keropian to Rudy Smith loosed the speedy half for a 65 yard touchdown run.

Allbee's conversion was wide to the right and the Gators led 26-0.

Another costly fumble by Southern Oregon gave State the ball on the opponents 16 yard line. A penalty moved the Raiders to the one yard stripe and Sam DeVito went over left end for State's fifth touchdown.

In the fourth quarter the Oregonians suddenly regained their earlier spirit and within 3 minutes scored two touchdowns against the Gator reserves. Both scores were made on passes with Earl Leslie converting for the extra points.

Marvin Crews returned their second kickoff from State's five to the Southern Oregon 41, where Dave Cricks ran around left end to the 18. Dewey Guerra and Cricks picked up a first down with several short runs, and then with the ball on the 2 yard marker, Guerra went over for the Gators final score.

The Raiders' final touchdown was the result of a San Francisco fumble which gave the ball to the Oregonians on State's 40. A pass was made to within inches of the goal line, where Bob Foster fell over for the TD. Leslie again scored the extra point.

Far more important than the final score was the fact that the Gators proved they could reorganize a defensive wall that was bogging down badly throughout the first quarter of play.

It should also be mentioned that the offensive line-play spark plugged by John DeGennaro, Neil Gunn and Don Clare opened the field for the backfields many running plays.

The following men were on the traveling squad for the Southern Oregon game:

Boxing Sign-ups Friday

Boxing coach Joe Ferem announced today that sign-ups for intercollegiate boxing will be taken up tomorrow. The sign-up list is posted on the bulletin board of the men's training quarters.

JV's Face Contra Costa JC Saturday

State Bops Lowell, 13-6,
Then Get Blasted, 54-0.

Boasting a one and one record, State's jayvee football squad travels to the East Bay Saturday night, where they meet Contra Costa J.C. at 8 p.m.

The boys had a rugged weekend last week when they opened their 1950 grid campaign by stopping Lowell High in a thrilling 13-6 contest Friday, while on Saturday they displayed a disappointing reversal of form as they were dashed blasted and battered by St. Mary's Frosh, 54-0. Both games were at Cox Stadium.

In Friday's tilt, Lowell's Indians scored first when Hubbard's first quarter punt was blocked and the Cards recovered on State's 28. A pass gave Lowell a first on the 18, and Kistler then circled State's right end for the score. The conversion failed and Lowell led 6-0. There was no more scoring for the rest of the half or in the third period. When there were but three minutes left in the game things looked bad for the Gators. Then things happened. State's Pruitt cracked the middle for twenty, to his own 40; two beautiful runs by Hughes got the Gators to Lowell's five, and Pruitt smacked over. The conversion again failed. On Lowell's first play, Ellis intercepted a wild pass, and raced to the Card's four. With seconds left, Ellis pitched to Peters for the score as the gun sounded. The conversion was completed.

Saturday, the gridders couldn't seem to do anything right. They were pushed all over the field by a bigger, faster St. Mary's squad. The real thorn in the Gators' side, however, was one Dick Warne. He racked up three TD's all by his lonesome on runs of 10, 25 and 44 yards. State's Wong stood out as a defensive half, and ends Murphy and Peters also looked good in losing.

Farmer Releases Cage Schedule

Announcement was made this week of the 1950-51 basketball schedule, by coach Dan Farmer. Included in the schedule are games with St. Mary's and the University of California, as well as the regular conference opponents.

Mr. Farmer is still anxious to have men turn out for the Monday, Wednesday and Friday practices.

This last week-end we had the privilege of traveling to Southern Oregon with State's football squad as they made their first Far Western Conference conquest. It was a long trip in spite of the fact that two planes carried us to and from Oregon, but in spite of this a very enjoyable trip.

To those of you who have never had the experience of traveling with a team, I'd like to relate some of the happenings and oddities on such a trip. First of all the eating schedule is followed as rigidly for a football squad as for a baby. Promptly at 11 o'clock on Saturday morning the steward aboard the plane served a "lunch" that included steak, tossed green salad and cake. Again at 4:30 everyone filed into a Medford Hotel for a dinner of lamb chops, baked potatoes and vegetables. After the game the team was served a "small" box lunch that the air line company put aboard the plane in boxes that were somewhere near the size of a small hat box.

The most enjoyable part of the trip with the exception of the game came just as we were flying over Ashland on the way home. From the cockpit the pilot announced, "Ladies and gentlemen, if you will look to your left you will see below you the now besieged city of Ashland, Oregon."

Quite a few of the people making the trip were flying for the first time, and luckily we had a smooth ride. The worst sufferer during the trip was End Jack McCann, whose ears just didn't seem to respond to the advise given of chew gum, yawn, etc. For a good 25 minutes after each landing Jack was saying "What say? Can't hear."

We were very sorry to hear that Norm Travis went to the hospital about a week ago for an emergency appendectomy. The day of the operation Norm had just been in to the Gator office to give us the names of the men on the cross country team which he was coaching. Norm was a member of last season's Far Western Conference Championship track team. If all goes well Norm should be back in school next week.
